AMERICAN COUNCILS
FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

Program Cost Breakdown

EURASIAN REGIONAL LANGUAGE PROGRAM

The cost of the Eurasian Regional Language Program (ERLP) includes tuition and fees for language classes, U.S. academic credit through Bryn Mawr College, and excursions and cultural activities. Room and board costs cover housing with a local host family with two meals provided daily (breakfast and dinner). American Councils provides comprehensive support services such as pre-departure and in-country orientations; visa processing; enrollment in health, accident, and evacuation insurance; in-country logistical support; and a 24/7 emergency contact.

Students are responsible for airfare and personal expenses.

Summer 2027 Term (8 weeks)

Tuition:	$4,980
Room and Board:	$1,670
Cultural Activities:	$320
Health Insurance:	$180
Visa/Local Registration Fee:	$250
TOTAL:	$7,400

Items not included in the program cost:

International airfare:	estimated range from $1,500 - $2,500
Books and supplies:	$150
Local transportation*:	$100 - $200

Cost estimates for inner-city commuting*

Meals not included in Board cost*:	$200 - $450

Lunches are not included in the board cost.*