AMERICAN COUNCILS FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

Program Cost Breakdown

OVERSEAS PROFESSIONAL AND INTERCULTURAL TRAINING PROGRAM

The cost of the Overseas Professional and Intercultural Training program (OPIT) includes placement at a local internship site, tuition and fees for language classes, U.S. academic credit through Bryn Mawr College, and excursions and cultural activities. Accommodation costs cover housing in a university dormitory. American Councils provides comprehensive support services such as pre-departure and in-country orientations; enrollment in health, accident, and evacuation insurance; in-country logistical support; and a 24/7 emergency contact.

Students are responsible for airfare, daily meals, and personal expenses.

Summer 2027 Term (8 weeks)

Regular Program Cost

Tuition:	$4,310
Accommodation:	$1,250
Cultural Activities:	$660
Health Insurance:	$180
TOTAL:	$6,400

Items not included in the program cost:

International airfare:	Estimated at $1,850
Meals:	Estimated at $550
Incidentals and spending money:	Estimated at $100-$500 (varies by participant)